Action for violations of the codes can be taken by any authorized officer i.e. SDM, DM or Commissioner of Police or any other officer notified in the official gazette by the Central Government or State Government.

The Central Government has constituted two inter-ministerial Committees under Section 20 of the Cable Television Networks (Regulation) Act, 1995 to look into the violations of the Programme and Advertising Code.

The Government has decided to set up a Broadcasting Content Regulatory Authority to receive and dispose of complaints on content telecast on TV channels. A Core Group has already been set up in the Ministry to deliberate and draft the Bill in this regard.

In so far as the Print Media is concerned, the Government does not interfere in the matters relating to the Press. The Press Council of India (PCI) is a statutory authority established for preserving the freedom of the Press and for maintaining and improving the standards of newspapers and news agencies in India. PCI has set the Norms for Journalists Conduct according to which Newspapers/journalists shall not publish anything which is obscene, vulgar or offensive to public good taste.

The publishing of obscene and nude/semi nude photographs of women is an offence under Section 3 of the Indecent Representation of Women (Prohibition) Act, 1986 which is administered by the Department of Women and Child Development, Ministry of Human Resource Development.
